General Disclaimer

The Rimrocker Trail is long stretches through remote areas (that's why it's awesome). Large portions of the route are rough, narrow and steep (again, awesome). The route between Nusta and Moab is recommended for 4WD/High Clearance vehicles and OHVs only. When traveling on the Rimrocker, users should plan to be self reliant and recognize that cell phone coverage is very limited.

Recommended travel tips include:
• Travel with another person or vehicle
• Carry maps and know how to use them
• Bring adequate food and water for your planned trip and emergency purposes
• Situate the route in feet if you are uncertain about your ability to navigate a portion in your vehicle
• Wear a helmet when riding a bike or OHV
• Carry first aid and emergency supplies including extra clothing
• Develop riding and driving skills on easier, more accessible routes
• Let a friend or relative know your itinerary

This Rimrocker Trail Map is meant as a navigational guide for the Rimrocker Trail only. The other roads shown on the map are strictly for informational purposes. Users should check travel management restrictions and conditions on other roads prior to travel.

All vehicles and mountain bikes must use designated routes only. Please check all trailside kiosks for local dispersed camping restrictions and information.
